

*Our Wisconsin Christmas trees are well known nationwide for their hardiness.
Sub-zero winters and hot summers acclimate them for use in all climates.*

SCOTCH PINE

One of our most popular plantation trees. A full tree with 1 1/2" to 2 1/2" "stick-tight" needles. We help Mother Nature form them into the conical shape that consumers like. Branches are sturdy so they can be loaded up with Memories.

COLORADO SPRUCE

This strong limbed, beautiful tree has 3/4" long needles that vary from blue-green to silver-blue. Needles are stiff and tend to be prickly, but the tiered branch structure offsets this for the families that love the unique affect.

BALSAM FIR

The aroma from this tree is so fragrant that pillows are stuffed with its needles. Balsam needles are about 1" long, bright green on top and shiny green-silver underneath. This was the original old-fashioned Christmas tree, but with our shearing, we have transformed it into a full plantation grown tree with sturdy branches. An excellent choice for BIG trees.

WHITE PINE

This fluffy plantation tree has soft bluish-green 3" long needles. We carefully shear them to create a full, straight-trunked tree that holds its needles all season. These light weight trees are easy to handle and pack well for shipping with little breakage. It has been reported that some people with allergies have no reaction to White Pine so they can once again enjoy a real tree in their home.

DOUGLAS FIR

A magnificent tree with 3/4" to 1 1/4" soft needles. We can supply weather acclimated Douglas from the Midwest and also have access to Douglas from the West Coast. Matching the right tree variety to your climate is important. We will help you do this.

FRASER FIR

Yes, Wisconsin grows beautiful Fraser. These "Cadillacs of Christmas trees" are not only beautiful, but also hold their needles well. Our extreme Wisconsin winters and summers acclimate them to all climates. The needles are soft but firm and dark green with a silvery-blue underside.
